

To whom it may concern:

I find the proposal to stop XM from broadcasting local traffic and weather very disturbing. XM is a premium service for which people pay extra money to receive. The problem with local radio is not XM, but their own quality. If local radio stations were not so disgraceful and despicable, satellite radio would not have so many customers like myself. The local stations should take note of what XM is doing right and fix their own numerous problems, rather than attacking XM. I am asking XM to keep me updated about this issue, as well as provide me with the names of any elected officials who are supporting this disgraceful proposal.

Sincerely,
